busk+hertzog

Wishbone is the work of the prize-winning Danish design duo busk+hertzog. Designs by Flemming Busk and Stephan B. Hertzog are characterised by pure, uncluttered lines and a simple, direct idiom. Believing that anything decorative should also have a function, busk+hertzog elegantly combines practicality with exclusive design.

Since the company was founded in 2000, busk+hertzog designs have won countless awards both in Denmark and abroad. They can be seen all over the world – everywhere from major international airports to the players' lounge of Chelsea Football Club. Several busk+hertzog designs are on permanent display at the Danish Museum of Art and Design, and 18 of their chairs were included at the reopening of the Museum of Modern Art in New York in 2004.
